OFFICER MAY DIE AS RESULT OF COLLISION WITH AUTO DRIVEN BY WILLIAM WELSH

"Joy-riding" Party Kills Horse and Frightfully Injures
Manuel P. Morano

MALE OCCUPANTS OF CAR
DON'T KNOW THE WOMEN?

Early Morning Accident May Lead to Charge of Manslaughter

Manuel P. Morano, mounted police officer, lies at the point of death at Queen's hospital as the result of a collision early this morning with automobile No. 999, owned and driven by William L. Welsh. Should Morano die, and it is believed to be but a matter of a few hours before he passes away, Welsh will be charged with manslaughter according to a statement made by Sheriff Rose this morning. Morano is suffering from a compound fracture of the skull and numerous bodily bruises.

The accident occurred on Kalakaua avenue, a short distance from John E. Ena road, at 2:17 o'clock this morning. Welsh was at the wheel of his high-powered car and with him in the car were Charles A. Reynolds, another chauffeur and two young girls. The horse ridden by Morano was killed instantly as a result of the impact with the machine.

The identity of these girls will probably play an important part in the investigation of the accident.

It was a general rumor around town that the women were members of the Jynellia, Bostonian company. This, however, was denied by Welsh and his companion and by the management of the theatrical organization. Every effort on the part of the police failed to substantiate the rumor.

The girls, Reynolds is credited with stating, were strangers to him, both being friends of Welsh, the name of one of them being Dolly.

Welsh, when questioned regarding the accident, refused to make any statement. He would not give any information as to what resort the party had visited, whether drinks had been served or who the young women of the party were.

Officer Morano was returning to the police call box at the corner of Kalakaua avenue and King street to make his final report for the night before going on duty at 4 o'clock. He was proceeding along Kalakaua avenue in the direction of town and is believed to have followed the road either between the rails of the Honolulu Rapid Transit line or near the track, when overtaken by the machine in which Welsh and his party were returning from Waikiki.

The details of the collision, which it is believed will result in the death of Morano, so far received by Sheriff Rose, were taken to police station early this morning by Charles Reynolds, member of the party. Reynolds is credited with the statement that Welsh at the wheel, had turned in his seat to address some remarks to the passengers in the rear of the car. His attention was soon called to a figure of a horseman slowly moving in the direction of town and almost in the path of the machine. Before Welsh resumed complete control of the car, Reynolds states, the machine was on top of the mounted officer.

The impact was terrific, according to the declaration of Reynolds by the car breaking both hind legs and caving in the flanks of the animal, which soon fell to death. The force of the machine hitting the horse sent the police officer into the air, and falling to the street he is alleged in this manner to have received the serious compound fracture at the base of the skull.

Reynolds is positive that the car did not strike the officer after the

HENRY P. JUDD WOULD SECURE MANY VISITORS

Local Pastor, Now on Coast,
Plans to Have 1000 Delegates Here in 1916

Rev. Henry P. Judd, superintendent of the Sunday schools of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association, who now is in Chicago in attendance at the triennial convention of the International Sunday School Association, is doing some good boosting for Hawaii on the mainland, according to correspondence received by the Promotion Committee. At the present time, Mr. Judd is making arrangements to have the delegation to the next World's Sunday School Association, which will be held in Japan in October, 1916, stop for a short time in these islands during the journey to the Orient.

In a letter to the Promotion Committee, Mr. Judd says, in part:

"The next convention of the World's Sunday School Association will be held in Tokyo, Japan, in October, 1916, and plans already are being made for that great gathering. At a committee meeting June 26 I was invited by H. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh, chairman of the committee, to speak for Hawaii. In my short speech I spoke of the fact that we entertained the Heinz party in March, 1913, when it was en route to Japan, and that we hoped that the transportation committee would so arrange the itinerary of the delegates going to Japan in 1916 so as to allow two or three or four days at least, part of the time in Honolulu and a part in Hilo and at the volcano."

"In introducing me to the committee, Mr. Heinz referred to his delightful stay in Honolulu and declared that Honolulu was a most beautiful place and the people most hospitable. Later, in private conversation, he asked me how the Honolulu people liked the improved and guarded inspection of the daughters of Hawaii at the Kona and Fair. I was pleased to tell him that we all appreciated his kindness."

"My invitation to the committee to have it arrange for a stop-over in Honolulu was well received, and I am quite sure that if arrangements can be made, the steamer or steamers that will bring the thousands of delegates will stay in the islands long enough to allow the delegates a chance to see the choice parts of Hawaii and to become enthusiastic friends of the islands."

"James W. Kinnear of Pittsburgh is chairman of the transportation committee. He was in Honolulu last year with the Heinz party and is a booster for Hawaii. He is well known in Pittsburgh, being a former circuit court judge. I think the next step to be taken is for you to follow up the matter with Mr. Kinnear and urge him to arrange for a stop-over in Honolulu."

"Hawaii is becoming better known each year to the people in the East and in the Middle West, to say nothing of the Pacific coast. As I have recently traveled through New England and New York, I have noticed that everywhere people are much interested in Hawaii and many express the desire to go out and see the islands. There are several contributory causes of this growing interest. The literature sent out by your committee is splendidly advertising Hawaii. The remarkable work of Duke Kahanamoku in the Olympic games helped to make our islands known. The baseball team of the so-called 'Chinese university of

DELAY OF HOUSE IN ACTING UPON BILL EXPLAINED

Unexpected Amendment Requested by Defendants in Mahuka Site Litigation

FREAR APPEARS TO REPRESENT PARTIES

Requests that House Measure Provide Reimbursement—Amount About $28,000

"What is holding up the federal building bill in the house."

This is the question that has been asked with increasing interest during the last few weeks. The answer has come from Washington in the report of a hearing before the house committee on public buildings and grounds on June 10.

At that hearing former Governor Walter P. Frear appeared to represent, presumably as paid attorney, defendants in the condemnation proceedings by which the government sought to acquire the Fort street frontage for the federal site. Mr. Frear wanted an amendment to the bill by which these defendants would be reimbursed for their attorney's fees, etc., during the litigation.

The report of the hearing shows that opposition to this at once arose in the committee, the chairman ruling that the committee had no jurisdiction in the matter, that it was a subject for the appropriations committee.

As a result it is expected that the committee will report the bill without the amendment proposed by Frear. The Senate passed the Warren bill, which is the latest of the federal building bills and embraces the whole subject, on June 23. Robert W. Shingle, who went to Washington to hasten action on the building matter expected that the House would pass a similar bill the following week. That was the general expectation here. But apparently the new situation developed from the Frear proposal has been one factor in the delay.

On June 10 the House building committee was in session. John R. Desha, the delegate's secretary, had discussed with the committee some minor amendments of wording in the bill. The hearing was about to close. Chairman Clark said:

"I do not think we will need any further information and we will take up the matter in executive session."

Frear's Offer Amendment.

"At this point Mr. Frear said: 'There is another point that has not come before the committee at all. You remember I appeared before the committee in support of this bill, claiming that I did so simply pro bono publico, not representing any parties interested in any phase of the matter. But since then the defendants in the condemnation proceedings, which were instituted for the acquisition of additional land for the enlargement of the site, have written to me asking me to present claims to have them reimbursed.'"

HILO TRANSIT BILL FAVORED BY THE SENATE

Another Forward Step in Securing Franchise for Street Railway on Big Island

"Hilo transit bill reported favorably in senate."

(Signed)
"KALANIANAOLE."

This cablegram from Delegate Kalaniano'le's secretary in Washington, was received today by Robert W. Shingle, president of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company.

The bill for a street railway franchise in Hilo passed the house on June 15. The time limit was extended for four years, the request for authorization of additional stock being refused, meaning the proposed bonus stock of $25,000 for use in the floating of bonds.

NURNBERG DUE IN PORT
OF HONOLULU JULY 28,
WILL SAIL JULY 30

Word was received this morning by the German consul, Georg Rodlek, that the German cruiser Nurnberg would arrive in Honolulu harbor July 28 and depart for the Orient July 30.

The Nurnberg is leaving Mexican waters, steaming to Honolulu by way of San Francisco, having been relieved by the cruiser Leipzig, a recent visitor at this port.

Trio Probed M'Carn Case All Reports Are Declared Adverse

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16.—W. M. Offley's report is unfavorable to District Attorney McCarn. Two other investigators have visited Honolulu. All of the reports are declared to be adverse to McCarn. McCarn's friends here are upset over the developments.

C. S. ALBERT.

The Star-Bulletin cabled to Washington today for a statement from the department of justice as to the findings of W. M. Offley, whose presence here was reported in this paper some time ago. Offley sailed for the coast yesterday. The cablegram above is the reply to this paper's query.

WILL REPORT ON JUDICIARY TO WASHINGTON

William M. Offley Leaves for Capitol After Thorough
Local Investigation

Following a quiet investigation lasting nearly a month, William M. Offley, head of the New York branch of the department of justice, returned to the mainland yesterday in the Wilhelm. It was stated this morning by an authentic source that Mr. Offley was sent to Hawaii to investigate the local judicial situation growing out of the forwarding to Washington of the names of persons qualified to fill the positions on the bench now occupied by Judges William L. Whitney, W. J. Robinson, Matthewman and Parsons, and Former Judge Cooper.

"The making of such investigations is Mr. Offley's business; that's what he is hired for," said a prominent former judge this morning. "When names for judges are sent in they usually are followed by many letters of protest, the judicial department does not know whether it is afraid or horseback, so to speak. I am positive that he was not sent here to investigate the McCarn-McBride affair. However, during his stay here, he may have solicited some information regarding it. If he formed any opinions while here regarding recommendations which he would make, it is not likely that he would make them known to anyone."

United States District Attorney Jeff McCarn stated this morning that Mr. Offley came to Honolulu with a letter of introduction from a friend of McCarn's.

"Of course, I know what Mr. Offley was here for," said the district attorney, "but I am not authorized to give that out. The letter which he had was from a fellow attorney of mine, and I gave Mr. Offley the use of my office and stenographer on several occasions."

Mr. Offley, when he first came here, was touted as a "mysterious man," owing to the frequency with which he called at the federal building. He represented himself as an insurance agent from New York City.

POLITICAL NOTES

A meeting of Kulo forces is to be held tonight at the prince's Waikiki home. Plans for the campaign will be discussed.

Henry Viera has issued an announcement of his candidacy for representative from the fifth district. He is a Republican.

George R. Carter, Progressive candidate for delegate, has gone to Kaula, accompanied by D. Kalanokalani, Sr. Carter will tour the Garden Island, organizing precinct clubs as he did on Hawaii.

William J. Sheldon, candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, will begin his active campaign shortly. He is going to start a speaking tour at Koolau and work around the outside precincts before coming into the city sections. Sheldon has been mailing numerous cards and circular letters to voters.

Palmer P. Woods, reported this morning to be about ready to come out for the Democratic nomination for delegate, told the Star-Bulletin today that there's nothing in the report. "I can't consider entering the race for delegate, laughs at the rumor. Mr. Woods' future plans, it is known, largely depend on whether or not he is appointed to territorial office by Governor Pinkham. He is a candidate for the land commissionership and any political candidacy depends on the outcome of the situation at the capitol building."

A meeting of the members of Theodore Roosevelt Camp No. 1, U. S. W. V., has been called for 7:30 o'clock this evening at the rooms of the organization, Merchant and Alakea streets.

Joseph S. Ferry, district magistrate of Puna, Hawaii, has been reappointed for a term of two years. The appointment was made by Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson and it dates as of today.

REPUBLICANS TO ORGANIZE SOON FOR CAMPAIGNS

Robert W. Shingle Held to Be Chairman Until Successor
Is Elected

Republican activities for the fall primary and general campaigns are already swinging along. However, organized action awaits the selection of a chairman for the Republican territorial central committee and other officers and executive committees.

Robert W. Shingle is still chairman of the central committee, according to Republicans who have closely observed the new party rules. The party rules say:

"The officers of the territorial central committee shall be a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, assistant secretary and treasurer, who shall hold their offices until a new committee is elected and until their successors are elected, unless sooner removed by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the membership of the committee."

It is held that Shingle remains as chairman until his successor is elected, and of course his successor cannot be elected until the new committee is called together. The duty of calling together the committee therefore falls upon the outgoing chairman.

The chairman of the committee is chosen by the committee at large and not by the executive committee, as stated in the Star-Bulletin yesterday. The chairman of the committee appoints members of the executive committee upon the nomination of members from the various districts. The chairman is ex-officio member and chairman of the executive committee.

The committee is expected to be called together as soon as notice can be given to all the members, which, in the case of the outside island districts, will require ten days.

MAYOR FERN AND 4 SUPERVISORS ASK REELECTION

Fourth District Stables Chosen
As Fitting Scene for Launching Campaign

Mayor J. J. Fern followed up his announcement of his candidacy for reelection by launching last night his campaign with a speech at the fourth district municipal stables, where a number of Democrats were assembled to hear him. He was accompanied by Supervisors Lester Petrie, Wm. H. McClellan, John Markham and E. H. F. Wolter, all of whom announced their candidacy for reelection.

In two instances these announcements came as a surprise. It has been accepted as an established fact in municipal circles for the last few months that Markham would not run again. His announcement, therefore, came as a surprise. Wolter has hinted strongly in late weeks that he would become a candidate for mayor, but his announcement last night evidently shows he has thought better of this and will be out with the others on the board for reelection.

Mayor Fern's speech last night touched on both the political and the road situations. For the problems of both he offered a solution, the most picturesque one being for the roads. He proposed to have the city and county divided into 10 wards and divide the road money equally among these wards.

On the delegate race he expounded this theory:

If Kulo loses out in the primary, his support will go over to McCandless. If Rice loses out in the primary, his support will go over to McCandless. According to his Honor's theory, McCandless will win in either event.

In his own case he expressed modest confidence in being able to get enough votes at the primary to be declared elected.

SHINGLE URGES COMMITTEE PLAY NO "FAVORITES"

Retiring Republican Chairman
Declares Successor Should Not Take Partisan Stand

Leading Republicans today heartily indorsed the stand taken by the Star-Bulletin editorially last evening that the Republican Territorial central committee and particularly its chairman cannot "play favorites" between party candidates during the campaign for nominations at the direct primary.

Robert W. Shingle, retiring chairman of the Republican party, declared that an impartial course must be taken by the party organization and its chief if the party hopes to hold together its full strength and win a victory in the November elections.

"I agree absolutely with the Star-Bulletin," said Mr. Shingle this morning. "The central committee and its chairman occupy a position that should represent not one element or faction of the party but all the people."

"Our new primary law does away with conventions as a means of choosing party candidates, and puts the choice up to all the people within the party. The central committee must let the people make the choice. It should not identify itself with one candidate as against another."

"If the chairman of the committee takes sides, for instance, between Joe Cohen and John Lane or Harry Murray for mayor, or between Oscar Cox and William Sheldon for sheriff, or Rice and Kulo for delegate, it will be detrimental to party interests."

"I believe, of course, in a man having his own views as to candidates. He may hold his personal views without bringing these into the primary campaign. He should keep these views out of the fight. What I want to emphasize is that the spirit of our new direct primary law is the spirit that the Republican party believes in and is pledged to uphold—requires that the party organization do not work for one party candidate as against another."

"After the primary election comes the general campaign. The chairman of the Republican party and his fellow members of the committee must be able to give an account of their stewardship. They must be able to give their friendly cooperation to the candidate nominated at the primary. How can they do this if they have perhaps fought these candidates during the primary campaign?"

"I do not believe that the chairman of the Republican central committee can in fairness and in observance of the primary law and party principle take sides with any one of the party candidates for nomination as against any other."

Perhaps the first work laid out for the successor of John W. Caldwell, superintendent of public works, will be the building of the new territorial prison. Governor Pinkham has stated that he is anxious for this work to be started as soon as possible. The money for it can probably be made available without difficulty.

WILSON MAY RECOGNIZE GOVERNMENT

FOREIGNERS DOUBTFUL
OF PERMANENT PEACE

Foreign Vessels Dropping Anchor at Puerto Mexico—
Huerta Not Yet Arrived

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16.—President Wilson has forwarded instructions to John R. Silliman, United States consul at Saltillo, to inform General Carranza that provided a peaceful settlement is reached with President Carranza, recognition by the United States will be extended to the resultant administration.

Should Carranza insist on forcible entry into Mexico City, recognition will be deferred until following the legal election.

FOREIGNERS DOUBT PEACE.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—Foreign residents of this city doubt greatly that permanent peace will result from the change in the administration of Mexico.

It is the prevailing opinion that the change simply means a subsidence of the Anti-American feeling and a temporary cessation of hostilities.

Many foreigners, owners of haciendas and mines, are anxious to return to their properties.

FOREIGN VESSELS ARRIVE.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—The British cruiser Bristol, which dropped anchor in this harbor and the German cruiser Dresden has been sighted approaching the harbor.

The arrival of former President Huerta is momentarily expected.

CENSORSHIP REAPPLIED.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—The censorship on outgoing news from this port, which was raised some time ago, has been reapplied, pending the arrival and sailing of Huerta.

HUERTA NOT IN SIGHT.

ORIZABA, Mex., July 16.—Thus far there is no sign of Huerta's special train. This is the junction point for the Puerto Mexico branch and a few of the former president's friends are on hand to welcome him and bid him bon voyage.

CARRANZA IS SILENT.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—General Carranza, leader of the Constitutional forces, is silent regarding the change in the presidency which took effect yesterday.

Confidants of Carranza are positive in their assertion that there will be no change in their leader's plans, stating that the advance on Mexico City will continue unless President Carranza will surrender unconditionally.

PLAN PEACEFUL ENTRY.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—The results of the change in administration were received calmly here, no demonstrations or riots materializing as had been anticipated.

A committee of four has departed to confer with the leaders of the Constitutional forces in an endeavor to arrange for a peaceful entry into Mexico City of General Carranza and his followers.

CARPENTIER WINS ALL THE WAY IN FIGHT IN LONDON

Frenchman Gets Decision in Sixth Round, "Gunboat"
Losing on a Foul

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
LONDON, Eng., July 16.—"Gunboat" Smith lost his fight here today to Georges Carpentier, Smith being disqualified in the sixth round.

Carpentier missed a swing and slipped to his knee. As he was rising "Gunboat" hooked him on the eye. The crowd jeered Smith thunderously. The Frenchman had a good lead at the finish. It was much faster than the American and knocked "Gunboat" down in the fourth with a right to the kidneys.

CARPENTIER AND SMITH
BOTH BETTING FAVORITES

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Betting on the "Gunboat" Smith-Georges Carpentier fight, which will take place in London tonight, has taken an odd turn. In this city, where Smith is well known, he is a 10 to 5 favorite over the French champion, while in London, where Carpentier is a high owing to his defeat of "Bambardier" Wells, betting is 10 to 8 on the Frenchman.

PORTABLE PRISONS WILL BE USED BY HONOR PRISONERS

A distinct innovation in the routine life of the prisoners at the territorial prison is about to be made, and they are already looking forward to it eagerly.

An honor roll is to be drawn up, and the prisoners whose names are on it will have the privilege of living on Round Top day in and day out, night times as well.

This became known yesterday when Superintendent of Public Works John W. Caldwell called for bids for the construction of portable prisons on Round Top. It is the outcome of a plan worked out by High Sheriff Jarrett and the superintendent.

The portable prisons will be in two divisions, facing each other, and over them there will be a galvanized iron covering.

Prisoners whose names are on the honor roll will be allowed to go up on Round Top and work on the home-stead road being constructed there. Many prisoners are already making application for this privilege. They will be allowed not only to live in these portable structures of wood but will be permitted to have flower and vegetable gardens, and spend part of their leisure time in sports, such as baseball.

The structures will be large enough to hold more than 50 men. Each bunk will have a transom with a half-inch mesh screen over it. The structures will be built up in panels and bolted together in such a way that they can be moved easily.

Bids for the construction of these buildings will be opened July 23. It is planned to award the contract at once so as to lose no time in getting the portable prisons up.

High Sheriff Jarrett is very much pleased with the scheme and is confident it will be successful.
